MEDICAL MEN BAFFLED BY BOY'S STRANGE ILLNESS

Lima's medical profession is baffled by the mysterious illness affecting Orville Porter, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Porter, 308 N. Second St.

Since he was last Sunday the boy has been apparently lifeless. He has no sign of any member of his body, and is unable to talk, see or hear.

He became ill three weeks ago Thursday, when his temperature rose to 105. Convulsions followed, and he grew worse until Sunday when he died. His little head and arms were stiff and he was unable to move.

Then he tumbled over into a deep sleep, and did not rally for several hours afterward. When he did, he was in a semi-conscious state in which he has remained since.

At the pale little chap tossed about his bed Friday morning, and the presence of his parents' faces moved with jerks. His bright blue eyes, sunken in his head, stared but he was unable to see.

Medicine and liquid foods are given him only by the use of a small syringe. He has difficulty in swallowing, and for three days last week his throat has been paralyzed to such an extent that neither food nor medicines could be administered.

A week ago Thursday the attending physicians believed death was near. His heart throbs became weak, and it was harder for him to breathe. But his parents stood by his bedside all night long and carefully nursed him thru several sinking spells. The morning found him better.

A blood test was made Thursday. Physicians believe that the boy's system is infected with a poison, but efforts to combat it have apparently been of no avail.

It is not believed to be sleeping sickness. In the palm of his clenched hands his parents have stuffed cotton. His legs are drawn, and the muscles of his body seem to be stiff.

Most of the excess fever has left him. His case is understood to present much concern in medical circles here. Several doctors have held consultations at various times concerning the malady which threatens death.

RAIL MEN ISSUE "BILL OF RIGHTS"

Presented to Labor Board by President Jewell

REPLY TO ROADS' DEMANDS

Proposals of the Executives Are Rejected

CHICAGO — (By United Press) — Railroad labor's bill of rights was presented to the federal board here today by B. M. Jewell, president of the Railway Employees' department of the American Federation of Labor.

The statement by Jewell opened the fight of railroad unions against the petition by railroad managers who asked abrogation of the national agreement.

Jewell's statement was a concrete proposal as the basis of the national agreement, which, he said, would be satisfactory to labor. The statement was presented in answer to the railroad's petition for abrogation of some national agreements.

ELFVEN POINTS

The 11 points, which Jewell said constituted the "irreducible minimum" on which labor would base a national agreement, are:

1—Eight hours as the recognized measure of the standard work day, with an adequate hourly wage.

2—Payment for time worked in excess of the regular eight hours at proper overtime rates.

3—The beginning and ending of work shifts to be so arranged as to permit of reasonable living arrangements by employees and their families.

4—Reasonable rules for protection of health and safety of employees.

5—Clear and concise definition of the work of each craft to be performed by mechanics and helpers.

6—The formulation of apprenticeship rules so as to develop sufficient competent and efficient mechanics.

7—Applicants for employment as mechanics to be required to show that they have served an apprenticeship of four years or performed mechanics work a similar period and that they not be denied employment when their services are needed, for any reason other than to perform the work for which they are making application for employment.

8—The right of the majority in each craft to determine what organization shall represent them, this organization having the right to make agreements which shall apply to all workers in the craft.

9—The right of the majority of each craft on each railroad to select a committee or representatives who shall handle all grievances which may arise affecting all employees of the craft, in accordance with provisions of the agreement.

10—Craft, point seniority, limiting seniority to the local shops or points, and not permitting interchange of seniority with other shops, crafts or departments of railroads.

11—The right to organize and the protection of employees against discrimination because of membership in labor organizations.

Jewell said the reason for setting forth the "bill of rights" was to show the board "how easy" it would have been for the employees and the railroads to get together on the national agreements, had the railroads shown a "sincere desire" to meet those directed and instructed by the railroad employees to adjust the matter of national agreements.

Return of the husband and brothers twenty minutes later and a hurried search failed to locate the man. Telephone calls were made all over the neighborhood, but no one had seen the stranger.

He was heavily masked, according to Mrs. Harrod, wore a stocking cap and a dark suit of clothes.

Flashing a light, he went into the bedroom, but as quickly made his exit. He left the house as quietly as he had come, in no way disturbing Mrs. Harrod or her children.

ROBBER WAS ARMED

Mrs. Harrod and her two small children, one two years and another three months of age, were alone at the time. The door remained unlocked. Mrs. Harrod looked up in surprise when the door opened and she found herself facing the muzzle of a big revolver. She did not move, but sat quietly thru it all.

The intruder walked directly to the buffet, in the same room, opened a drawer, removed a pocketbook and placed it in his pocket. He then took Mrs. Harrod's wrist watch, which lay on the buffet, and placed it in his pocket, in the meantime laying his revolver on the buffet.

WOMAN VICTIM OF BOLD HOLDUP

Mrs. Jesse Harrod Menaced by Bandit's Revolver

PURSE AND WATCH STOLEN

Daring Robbery Thursday Night in Perry-Tp

A masked man entered the farm home of Jesse Harrod, twelve miles southeast of Lima, in Perry-Tp, Thursday night, held up Mrs. Harrod at the point of a revolver and searched the house. He carried away a pocketbook containing about $4 or $5 and a wrist watch, the property of Mrs. Harrod. No trace of the man was found.

Mrs. Harrod is the daughter of County Commissioner A. J. Gray and the Harrod family resides on Gray's farm. Harrod and Gray's two sons, Harry and Raymond Gray, who farm the land with Harrod, stepped from the house at about 7 p. m., to go to a neighbor's residence on an errand.

NO CHANGES NOW AT CITY HALL

Consolidation of Offices to be Left to New Regime

TIME TOO SHORT, DECIDED

Old City Hall to Continue in Use Remainder of Year

There will be no attempt to consolidate the city offices under the roof of the new safety building on E. High-st by the present city administration, it has been agreed by council and others of the official family, according to a statement made by Mayor F. A. Burkhardt, Friday.

"The time is too short to take up that proposition," the mayor said. "The present administration goes out of action altogether with the close of the present year, to be succeeded by the commission-manager form of government. In addition to the fact that such a change would require considerable time, plans carried out might necessitate rearranging by the city commission to be elected in the fall. There is nothing definite now as to the plan of procedure to be adopted by the new officials under the commission form of government and if action should be taken, the work might be required to be done all over again. Hence," said the mayor, "it is the consensus of opinion of the present officials that no action should be taken now."

COUNCIL HAS PLENTY TO DO

Council has under way a great number of projects, more in fact than they can reasonably be expected to complete before the time of laying down their work, to be taken up by the city commission to be elected.

"In my opinion," President of council W. J. Dempster stated Friday, "it would be foolhardy for council attempt anything more save general business, than that they have on hand at this time. Big improvement projects, the gas question, street railway and light and power franchises remain to be disposed of and the official family is proceeding as rapidly as possible, but with no prospect of being able to clear the decks altogether before their regime comes to an end."

Assembly of all officers in the new safety building would naturally be followed by a decision to sell the old City Hall and since the officials would desire to realize as much as possible for the city by its sale, such a proposition could not be disposed of in a few weeks.

START NOTHING NOW

It is the opinion of Mayor Burkhardt and President of Council Dempster, as well as all of the present officials, that existing conditions should not be disturbed to a greater extent than possible, even though there is danger every added day and night the city's valuable records are permitted to lie, some of them, almost wholly unprotected from fire in old City Hall.

The question of consolidating city offices has never been before council in open meeting, but has been discussed often by officials in committee and elsewhere. While for the most part it is agreed among all officials that something of this kind should be done, it is also agreed that it should be left over for the officials under the new form of city government to dispose of, as best fits the new circumstances that are soon to obtain.

EMBARGO ON U. S. PRODUCTS ASKED

Put Up to Harding by Western Congressmen

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — President Harding had under advisement today an appeal from western senators and representatives that he place an immediate embargo on the importation of a number of farm commodities, including wool, hides, meats and butter, represented as most keenly affected by foreign competition. When the request was made in conference yesterday, President Harding, after being told that many producers in those lines faced ruin unless relief was forthcoming, indicated that he desired to confer with certain members of his cabinet before acting on the appeal. Other products on the proposed embargo list, were lemons, cotton seed oil and long staple cotton.

Adhering to its program for rushing thru at the special session of congress an anti-dumping bill together with an amended American valuation measure, possibly to be combined in one bill, the house ways and means committee referred today its resolution adopted yesterday requesting them to frame a rough draft for its consideration.

With the committee also still holding firmly to the view that a permanent tariff bill should have priority over tax revision on the legislative program, it was indicated by Chairman Fordney that the actual work of writing the tariff measure might be begun when the committee met today.

3 AMERICANS ARE WOUNDED

Fighting Starts When Supposed Smugglers, Forcing the Rio Grande, are Halted by Officers from United States Immigration Office

Soldiers are Rushed from El Paso Barracks to the Scene and Shots are Exchanged Across the River for Three Hours

EL PASO, Texas — (By Associated Press) — United States soldiers and immigration officers early today were patrolling the Mexican border near here when from 10 o'clock last night until 1 a. m., they had exchanged shots with a party believed to be Mexican smugglers, in which three Americans were wounded.

The Mexicans opened fire on three American immigration officers who discovered the Mexicans fording the Rio Grande, which is about 50 yards wide at that point.

The return fire of the immigration officers apparently wounded one of the three Mexicans wading the river and was immediately answered by riflemen concealed in bushes on the Mexican side.

SOLDIERS RUSHED TO SCENE OF BATTLE FROM EL PASO

Five more inspectors and 100 soldiers of the 48th infantry from El Paso responded to a call for assistance and for more than an hour the firing continued briskly, the Americans firing at the flashes of the Mexican guns.

An occasional scream of pain from the Mexican side indicated that the American fire was not without results.

At one a. m. the Mexicans' fire died down, and a dim light was visible moving about on the Mexican side.

C. A. Perkins, inspector in charge of the immigration men said he believed the Mexicans were attempting to smuggle over liquor or drugs.

The three Americans wounded were:

Private M. J. Koller, Company D, 48th infantry, shot in left arm and scalp wound. Private Petroksi, shot thru hip, believed serious. Joseph Thomas, immigration inspector, scalp wound.

NEW PALESTINE IS CALLING MANY

Fine Class of Young Jews Arriving, Says Report

BEGIN NATION BUILDING

Writers Describe "Enthusiastic Spirit of Pioneers"

(By EARL C. REEVES.)
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON.—The spirit of nation building and the enthusiasm of pioneers is animating the first emigrants to the new Palestine, in the opinion of Sir Alfred Mond, who has just returned to England from a visit to the Jewish homeland.

Sir Alfred, who is a Member of Parliament, and has held various Government posts, including that of Commissioner of Works, visited Sir Herbert Samuel, who recently went to Jerusalem as High Commissioner for Britain under mandate.

"There has been coming into Palestine a very fine class of young Jews from the Ukraine and Galicia," he declares, "peoples who have hated and seek occupation in the country. They have been organized by the Zionist movement into co-operative societies to undertake Government work. These young men and women are road building, constructing railways and assisting in the reconstruction of the country with enthusiasm and real patriotism."

"They had a rough and hardy life, the husband and wife literally pitching their tents by the roadside. Many are university men, with degrees. They are all anti-Bolshevik, many of the intelligentsia driven from parts of Russia by the recent upheaval. Nearly all the work is being done by Jews, many of whom have come from long distance."

"The American group of Jews are doing wonderful work medically, and the Zionist medical union has been spending $50,000 a month. Back to Soil Movement."

"One of the most impressive things was the young generation of Jews whose parents were nearly all born in Russian ghettos. They are growing fruit and farming, showing that the race will go back to the land and take up again their original role of cultivators of the soil."

"There are immense possibilities in the country. Not only is Palestine quiet, but security is good and improving. An Arab and Jewish police force is contemplated. Communications and transport are developing, and the barren old land system which left everything at an economic standstill is giving way to a new order."

"The potentialities of the country are great, and a mandate to the Jewish race throughout the world to establish again a centre for their own people under British protection must make a great appeal, not merely to devoted Zionists who have cherished their dream through so many years but to others who formerly took no interest."

Sir Alfred predicts that there will be no religious difficulties under the British mandate.

TRIO OF FIRE ALARMS IN ONE HOUR, THURSDAY

BROSHES FEARED WHITE PLAGUE

Wished to Protect Children, Tells in Alimony Suit

Judge F. C. Becker considered the claim for alimony for Mrs. Daisy M. Broshes against her husband, Frank E. Broshes, Friday. The contest suit was heard Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Broshes was brought into court on a cot, very ill. She charged that he abandoned her on October 11, last, and in December took their two children, Ruth, 7, and Madge, 5, depriving her of seeing them. She made the Lima Trust company a party defendant to the case, alleging he has a large deposit of funds there.

Broshes, in his testimony, declared the reason he took his two children from their mother, was because she refuses to live elsewhere than at the home of her mother. He said at that home is Mrs. Broshes' younger brother and sister and that they are afflicted with tuberculosis. Fearing his little ones would contract the disease because they were forced to eat and drink where the sick children were, caused Broshes to remove them, he told the court. He testified he had $262 in the Lima Trust company savings account. He offered to support his wife anywhere save at the home of her mother. Broshes is an employee of the Solar Refinery. Mrs. Broshes instituted the suit January 17, last.

With the help it receives as its apportionment from national headquarters, the Y. W. C. A. here has been self-sustaining and will soon have paid for a building site for its future home," Mrs. Crawford stated.

She is asking that there be a generous membership response. Membership dues for the year are one dollar.

YOUTH CAUGHT AT WORK ON SAFE

Katina Nabbed in Swick Barber Shop by Officer

Showing signs of deep regret that he ran away from the comfortable home of his parents two months ago in Brooklyn, N. Y., Louis Katina, 15, sobbed behind the bars at city prison Friday morning, where he is held as a burglar.

The alleged boy burglar was nabbed by Officer Jess Hargrove while he was at work attempting to break open a safe in the Swick barber shop, 10 Public Square, at 2 o'clock Friday morning, according to police reports.

Previously to this, police say, he broke into the O'Connor sign shop, next door to the barber shop, where he obtained tools which he intended to use in breaking open the safe. The sign shop was ransacked and tools and signs were scattered about the floor.

He used a diamond glass cutter to gain entrance to the barber shop, according to police.

Officer Hargrove heard a noise in the barber shop while returning to police headquarters to report off duty. He found the front door of the shop unlocked, and slipped inside to investigate the noise. As he tiptoed to the rear, he saw the youth at work on the safe.

For a few minutes he stood still, and then he approached the alleged burglar and nabbed him while he was working at the inner door of the safe.

A large wrench, a number of chisels and other tools were found in his possession which are being held at police headquarters.

He was to have been turned over to juvenile authorities Friday afternoon.

Young Katina said he came to Lima Thursday from Bucyrus in an automobile, driven by a man who asked him to ride.

DAVIS' MEASURES RUSHED THRU

Reorganization Adopted; Uniform Rule Plan Wrecked

WORK SPEEDED UP IN HOUSE

Will be Ready to Adjourn March 31, Leaders Say

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — With the reorganization and general appropriation bills out of the way and the uniform rule taxation plan wrecked, the house of representatives today was heading fast toward a condition for final adjournment March 31, while the senate was leisurely enjoying its work and vacation.

House leaders, last night, made a further provision for speeding up so that it will be ready to adjourn March 31, the date set by resolution already adopted by that body, by appointing a "steering" committee to arrange calendar for each day. They insist that the house will be ready to adjourn without date at the end of March.

BILLS PENDING
Practically the only measures of importance yet to be acted upon by the house are the taxation plan proposed by Governor Davis' citizens' taxation committee, the new election code and the occupational disease bill. The taxation plan is expected to be ready for action by the first of next week and the election code probably will be reported in by the committee Monday evening. The occupational disease bill already is on the house calendar.

The house established a record yesterday in passing the reorganization bill and the general appropriation bill which carries almost twice as much as any previous appropriation bill, approximately $4,000,000. Neither measure as important as they are, brought forth a single word of debate. Not a single word was said for or against the reorganization bill, which went thru according to majority caucus plans, with the emergency clause attached, which will bar a referendum and make the bill effective immediately upon being signed by the governor. The vote on the bill was strictly partisan, receiving 107 affirmative votes and 11 negative votes. The emergency clause, however, failed to receive the solid Republican strength, polling 100 affirmative votes to 18 negatives.

PROTEST PRESENTED
After the reorganization bill had been passed, minority leader Atkinson presented a formal protest against the emergency clause, which he had read and spread upon the journal. "Acting under orders from the executive department," Atkinson's protest declared, "this house has manifested a contempt for the constitution which can only breed disrespect for law and government with the result that the people will lose confidence in government."

"One legislative branch of government has been corrupted and perverted for selfish purposes, when by this act the hardly-won rights of the people are menaced and an attempt is being made to deprive them of their constitutional privileges. The only recourse left will be an appeal to the courts for justice and protection."

The protest was signed by the 11 minority members present. Representative Myers, the twelfth member, was at his home in Cleveland, Ill.

TAX MEASURES

Only one of the six taxation bills proposed by the advocates of strict enforcement of the uniform rule was able to run the gauntlet of opposition in the house. That was the Robbins bill, which received almost solid support of the house, providing that the county auditor, as the chief taxing official, may bring a taxpayer before the common pleas court to make verification of his returns for taxation. Two of the bills were defeated outright, one indefinitely postponed on its author's motion, one sent back to the taxation committee on its author's motion, and one placed at the foot of the calendar also on the author's motion. These latter three bills while they might be called up in the future, are considered dead by their proponents and opponents.

"BLANK DRAWN IN RUSSIAN TRADE"

View of Chicago Financiers in Britain's Pact

CHICAGO — (By United Press) — Great Britain drew a blank in the trade agreement with Russia.

That was the opinion of leading bankers and business men of Chicago, expressed in interviews with the United Press today.

England will be unable to do much in the Russian field with the soviet government in control according to David R. Torgan, president of the National City Bank.

He based his belief on the Russian financial situation and general unsettled conditions.

HELP FEED WORLD

"United States doesn't need to get excited about Great Britain making a pact with the soviet," Torgan said.

Aided if he thought American business should await a stabilization of Russia before entering the field.

The banker said the United States had never had extensive commercial dealings with that country.

They are our competitors, he said. They produce wheat and other raw materials. They help feed the world.

Charles Piez, former chairman of the United States shipping board, thought the Russian British trade pact might give England slight advantage, but he doubted if America will ever be a serious competitor in Russia.

GOES TO GERMANY

Germany has the "drop" on the world in Russian trade, Piez believes.

"The Russians will naturally give their business to Germany," said Piez. "Germany is a under-sell."

United States of England. She can make quicker deliveries and understand the Slav better, can conduct business on a much more satisfactory basis.

Trade with Russia in the next few years will be on the primitive barter and exchange basis, according to Piez. The Slav will exchange his oil, wheat and other raw materials for manufactured articles.

However, Piez said, there is some opportunity for American business in Russia, and the British advantage is not an unassailable one.

The manufacture of paper coated with aluminum for use as a substitute for tin foil has caused the commercial stage in France.

J. O. MONTAGUE DIRECTS CAMPAIGN FOR DONATIONS OF CORN FOR RELIEF WORK

Craving need for food to be sent to the starving peoples of Armenia, the Balkan states and southern Europe is the basis of an appeal being made to the farmers of Ohio by the Farm Bureau Federation. Need for generous donations of corn on March 20 on "Gift Corn Day," out of the surplus of last year's bumper crop is being put up to the farmers of Ohio by volunteer agents of the Farm Bureau, in each school district. J. O. Montague is in charge of the work.

As soon as the personal canvass is completed, full information as to the concentration points will be given out. It is hoped by the Farm Bureau that large amounts of corn will be secured by this plan. By this plan those who have not made donations of corn are now given the chance to give that which they have in great part free transportation of all corn received on "Gift Corn Day" has been promised by the railroads.

ENDORSES PLAN TO BEAT THE REDS

French Editor Favors Sending German Troops to Moscow

PARIS—(By International News Service)—For the first time since the project saw light a Frenchman has come forward to support General

Ludendorff's plan of combatting Bolshevism by using German forces at present available. He is Gustave Herve, editor of La Victoire and notorious anti-Bolshevik, and a close friend of Kerensky and admirer of Russian Socialists.

In an editorial on the subject of Ludendorff's projected aid Herve writes:

"General Ludendorff's idea is that Russia will never succeed alone in discarding the state of barbarism and anarchy wherein she fell and that Germany alone is near enough to the chaos there reigning and solid enough both morally and intellectually to take the initiative and lead the of Russia to re-establish order, work and civilization within the unhappy great Slav nation. A German army, 150,000 strong seems necessary and sufficient to Ludendorff to reach Moscow on condition that the Entente is willing to furnish food and munitions to this expeditionary corps.

From a sentimental point of view this plan is repugnant to us. But examined cold-bloodedly it is not so unreasonable and it does not present very great dangers, as we are led to believe.

MIGHT TURN ON ALLIES:

"It is feared that after having swept away the Bolshevik armies the German force would turn on the Allies and attempt to tear up the Treaty of Versailles. How could it do this if the Entente is to supply it with food and munitions while we should be in a position to occupy the Ruhr basin at a minute's notice in case of felony?

"Fear is expressed that once in Moscow the German army would restore Czarism in Russia. How could it do this inasmuch as it would be there as a sort of mandatory or policeman for the Entente and that the latter would continue to hold the strings of its purse?"

GERMANS CIVILIZED RUSSIA

"Fear is expressed that Germany would open up 'or itself a too large place in the economic resurrection of Russia. But in any event on account of its industrial force and neighborhood it would have a large place. Historically it is Germany who civilized Russia, which around 1700 was still an Asiatic country. We have not the pretension of imposing Germany's economic resurrection. It would not be in our interest. Our interest is to see our debtor re-establish herself economically as soon as possible, especially so because, despite her crimes in the period 1914-1918, it is one of the principal factors of human civilization.

"Fear is expressed that in exchange for this service Germany would ask us for exorbitant advantages. It is up to us to make only reasonable concessions. She would content herself with them, pressed is she to save the moral quarantine in which she is held.

"When we shall have conquered our moral repugnance we shall see that there is no other way of pulling Russia out of the abyss wherein she fell.

"It is repugnant to accept Ludendorff's proposition. It is said: 'But is it not even more repugnant to see a band of jail-birds supported by a mass of armed ignominious terrorize, starve, assassinate and throw into barbarism and anarchy a people of 50 million which was just emerging into modern civilization, and which is, perhaps, the best friend we have in the world?"

JOBLESS SOLDIER RANKS REDUCED

Army of Over Half Million is Cut to 400,000

WORK FOUND BY LEGION

Chain of Employment Agencies is in Operation

(By International News Service.)
NEW YORK—From a "peak" of more than half a million jobless service men in the United States shortly after the first of the year, the unemployment situation as it affects veterans of the World War appears to have taken a turn for the better, according to a survey of the national situation made for the American Legion by the organization's official publication, the American Legion Weekly. Based on "the best information obtainable," the number of unemployed veterans on March 1 was placed at 400,000, with promise of further improvement.
A chain of employment agencies operated by the Legion in every state has done much to relieve the situation in various ways, according to Legion officials. The Legion has been instrumental in obtaining work for veterans without employment, in discouraging the migration of jobless men toward the great industrial centers and encouraging a movement from cities to the farms, and insisting that workers who left their jobs to go to war should enjoy seniority rights on par with those of military age who stayed at home.
EX-SERVICE MEN SUFFER
Ex-service men have suffered more in proportion to their numbers than other workers, according to the Legion survey, because of the operation of seniority rules and efficiency standards. Nearly a year is required for the returned veteran to get back to his old stride in industry, according to the testimony of large employers of labor. Another thing that has handicapped the ex-soldier is his restlessness and nomadic tendencies, both products of the strain and circumstances of war service.

HUSBAND LIKENED TO CAVE MAN

Chicago Girl Tells of Quick Trip to Altar

CHICAGO, (By International News Service.)—The West still is wild and woolly, at least according to the story told Superior Judge Harry A. Lewis here by Mrs. Clara Quick, former Chicago girl.

In the heart of the Dakotas, where the Indian and Western "bad man" formerly took what they wanted at the point of six shooters, Guy Quick lived in the little hamlet of Burke, S. D. It was Mrs. Quick's misfortune, she told Judge Lewis, to meet the impulsive Guy in his own bailiwick.
Immediately, she testified, he determined that she should be his wife whether or no. What follows is a tale of the sinister and bizarre features that furnished so many thrills to the stories of early Western days.
Mr. Quick confronted the young woman one evening as she was returning to the home of relatives in Burke.
"You are going to marry me," he told her bluntly.
"Think up something funnier,"

"CAVE MAN" STUFF

"You'll marry me or you'll never leave the State alive," she testified. Mr. Quick told her, "We'll have no trouble in getting a minister to perform the ceremony."

Mrs. Quick testified that he permitted her to go home that night. Two days later, however, he rode up to her home, ordered her to accompany him, and locked her in his ranch house, she says.

"We were there for about three hours," she testified. "Then he opened the door of an adjoining room. It was full of rough-looking men—friends of his—all armed with revolvers. A minister was there, too. He appeared to be as cruel as the rest of them. I was so scared that I held a revolver pressed to my side while the ceremony was being performed."
Mrs. Quick, thru her attorneys, Arthur Kettles and Charles Bidwell, sought to obtain an annulment of the marriage on the ground that it was contracted under duress. Judge Lewis continued the case, indicating that he could not grant a decree because neither is a resident of Cook County.

CAN SPOON ATOP BUSES IN DETROIT

DETROIT.—It's all right to spoon atop the Detroit motor buses, providing you don't disturb the other bus riders. Dr. James W. Lynch, police commissioner, has issued this edict to all police officers, thus proving that he is broader than his name implies.

"They spoon in cafes, restaurants and hotels," he said, "and to stop it would be useless. So the bus kids and the other passengers will be at ease. A coil spring has been invented to take up the slack in wires to electric irons, vacuum cleaners and other implements to keep wires out of the way of users."

VISITED "CHICKEN GIRL", CLAIM

New Charges Brought Out Against J. A. Stillman

DIVORCE FIGHT RENEWED

Attempts to Settle Case Out of Court Fail

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (Associated Press)—The divorce case of J. A. Stillman and his wife, Mrs. Florence M. Stillman, was renewed today in the federal court here. The case was brought on by the wife's claim that her husband had visited her in the city of New York, where he was living with another woman, and that he had attempted to secure a divorce from her in the state of New York.

When the case was brought on, the wife's attorney, Mr. J. A. Stillman, claimed that his client had been living with another woman in New York, and that he had attempted to secure a divorce from her in the state of New York.

They included the allegation that Stillman had visited, under the name of Leed, an apartment in New York, in which a war in known as Mrs. Florence M. Stillman, was residing. This Mrs. Leed was said formerly to have been a chorus girl in the Century Hotel, which played here in 1916. It is alleged she gave birth to a child in September, 1915. She is said to be 24 years old and to have figured as one of the "chickens" in the 1916 revue. She failed to return to the stage next season, it being understood that "she had made wealthy friends." The apartment in which she resided was said to have been luxuriously furnished and to have rented for $2,500 a year.

Mrs. Catherine Weisenmayer, 90, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. G. Rowser, 345 S. Pine-st., Thursday evening. Death was due to general debility after a two days' illness.

Deceased was born September 4, 1839, in Germany. Besides the daughter, at whose home she died, Mrs. John Loyer, Anglaise-co, and Paul Weisenmayer, Shawnee-st., Albert of Anglaise-co and Julius of Toledo, are other surviving children.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the First Reformed church. The Rev. T. W. Koerneman, pastor, will officiate. Interment will be at Shawnee cemetery.

FUNERAL OF INFANT. Funeral services for Frances Marie Paer, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Paer, 431 S. Pine-st., were held Friday at the residence. The little one was born Thursday. Death soon ensued. Burial was made at Woodlawn.

DELAWARE MAN IS NAMED CUSTODIAN OF ALIEN PROPERTY

Thomas W. Miller, of Delaware, has been named custodian of alien property by President Harding. The appointment does not have to be confirmed. Miller is a former representative. POOL ROOM ORDER

Law Barring Boys to Be Enforced By Police

Safety Director Fred H. Fisher was drawing up a letter to Chief of Police O. J. Roush Friday afternoon, in which he will instruct the head of the police department to strictly enforce the state law requiring minors to stay away from pool rooms and billiard parlors.

Fisher intimated that he is receiving many complaints from parents of boys who are wasting their time in pool rooms, who claim that at the same time they are learning petty gambling.

GIRL HALTS CAR TRAFFIC BY REFUSAL TO GET OFF TRACK IN PUBLIC SQUARE

Enacting a scene that would rival the wildest movie, a young girl early Friday afternoon stood in the middle of the tracks of an approaching Ohio Electric freight car in the center of the square and refused to move as the car neared.

Persons waiting for their street cars shrieked, and motioned at the girl to move. She paid no attention to their warnings.

Luckily enough, the motorman of the freight saw the girl just in the nick of time to stop the car before it had knocked her down.

Still she refused to move, and would not leave until police arrived several minutes later and removed her to her home.

Her mind is believed to be unbalanced. Street car and interurban service was stopped.

All articles of food combined decreased 21 per cent during the year but five articles which increased during the period were raisins 25 per cent; macaroni 7 per cent; rolled oats 3 per cent; cream of wheat two per cent and tea less than five-tenths of one per cent.

STATE POLICE FIRED ON FROM MOUNTAINS

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — More than 100 shots were fired at the six state police stationed at Willis-branch, a mining town, Tuesday night, according to a long distance message received here today from Glen Jean, a nearby village. The report said that the shots which were fired from the mountains, were returned by the police. No fatalities were reported.

Colonel Jackson Arnold, in command of state police, said today that there was no truth in the report. He admitted, however, that reinforcements were being sent to Willis-branch, but asserted that the orders sending them there had nothing to do with reports of recent fights.

It is understood that an additional force of twelve state police are being transferred to Willis-branch from Mingo-co.

BOARDING PLACE WANTED FOR MOTHER AND CHILDREN

The Boarding and Home division of the Child Welfare association is seeking a desirable home where a deserted wife with two small children may find a boarding place, the mother having employment and able to pay for such service. ARTICLE 10 NOT ONLY OBJECTION

Harding Opposes Still More of League Covenant

WASHINGTON — (By United Press)—More than Article X will have to be eliminated from the league of nations covenant before the Harding administration will consider making America a party to it, it was stated authoritatively today.

The statement was made in reply to word from Paris that Rene Viviani, former French premier, soon to come to America, will, as recently forecast by the United Press, be prepared to ask that America become a member of the league on the basis of elimination of the article.

At the same time, the Paris delegation is regarded as a feeler, the real beginning of negotiations to bring the country into the league, but only the negotiating.

Ambassador Jusserand visited the White House Wednesday and talked an hour with President Harding. He is believed to have learned during that conference that the elimination of Article X is the minimum concession demanded by Harding.

The next step was for Jusserand to advise his government of his findings and word that Viviani would make the proposition to be followed. It is probable the British mission soon to come here will back the French proposal.

REMAIN AT HOME, CONWELL ADVISE

Riches and Fame Are Easiest Attained Here, He Avers

You have the opportunity right here in Lima to become great," said Dr. Russell H. Conwell in his famous lecture, "Acres of Diamonds," at Central Hi Auditorium, Thursday night.

Dr. Conwell stated that the story "Acres of Diamonds" was told to him by an Indian guide while with a party of Americans in India, years ago. It was the story of a man who left his home to search for diamonds, only to have the most famous diamond mines that he had left.

Dr. Conwell gave several interesting examples of men who had left their home town in search of riches, only to have great riches discovered on their own land.

The lecture was a plea for people to stay at home and not to search for riches elsewhere. Dr. Conwell explained that it was proper to attempt to make a great amount of money. He said, "You cannot underestimate the power of money; it is the man who uses it that is to be blamed if there is any blame."

He related many instances of how people by becoming wealthy had improved their home cities to a great extent. The foundation principle of business success and of Christianity is to help your fellowmen. The way to get rich is to take care of yourself and of other people, too, said the speaker.

Dr. Conwell told many intimate stories of American millionaires and said that out of 4043 millionaires not over 40 of them had been dishonest. Out of this number 3,789 began without a dollar of capital and over 500 made their fortune in small cities or towns.

He stated that one could not go to a city like New York to become wealthy. The place to make money is in the small town, according to the speaker.

"True greatness is the willingness to do the humblest things," said Dr. Conwell as he told of many humble things that famous men and women had done.

Dr. Conwell told of an afternoon he spent with the most famous American, Abraham Lincoln. Lincoln owed his whole education, which was equivalent to a college education, to the fact that when he had anything to do he could hold his mind there until the thing was done. If you can do this, success must follow.

The speaker closed his lecture by asking that the people of Lima "talk up their city." He said that anything can be talked up or talked down and it is the duty of Lima people to stay in Lima, to take an interest in their city and their fellow men and to improve Lima to the best of their ability.

A large number heard Dr. Conwell and were enthusiastic over his lecture. Dr. Conwell will probably return this year as he has been on the platform for 50 years. He has preached his lecture "Acres of Diamonds" almost 6,000 times. In his fifty years of platform work he has given 10 lectures a year and in this time he has missed one engagement.

Almost 2,000 young men have helped thru school by Dr. Conwell, as the proceeds from his lectures are sent to help poor students. In this way he has donated over $4,000,000.

2 MEN KILLED IN NAVAL PRACTICE

American Airmen Die in Manoeuvres Off Cuba

BOARD THE U. S. S. PENNA.—BY Association Press.—Walter Johns, a chief gunnery mate, was killed when he jumped from an observation balloon over the Florida off Guantanamo, yesterday.

The body was recovered and taken to the hospital ship Relief. A. B. McNeil attached to the seaplane of the division, was also killed by the propeller of a seaplane shortly after the seaplane had landed and the members of the crew of the observation balloon which was hoisted from the battleship Nevada. The body has not been recovered.

A dispatch from Havana Thursday reported that a captive balloon with a crew of three men, among them Captain Miller of the medical corps, had broken from its moorings at the United States Naval station at Guantanamo.

TRIAL NEARS END

Cleveland Woman's Fate Goes to Jury Today

CLEVELAND.—(By Association Press.)—Closing arguments in the first degree murder trial of Mrs. Mildred Miller charged with fatally poisoning her husband Peter J. Miller, were expected to be completed this afternoon and the case given to the jury of twelve women and eleven men late today.

So on verdicts were possible—first degree murder carrying the death penalty, first degree murder with mercy, and second degree murder, carrying life imprisonment, manslaughter, and battery, and assault, with a possible sentence, and acquittal. The Miller has been in jail since the shooting January 20.

CRITICIZES INDECENCY IN PICTURE PLAYS

LONDON.—The medical officer of Nottingham created a sensation at the annual cinema trade dinner by declaring that there was too much immorality and indecency in picture plays.

"It does not pay in England," said the doctor, "the conscience of the country is better than its conduct, and that is why the English people are called hypocrites."

Determined Effort Made to Change Herrick's Order

However, many of the counties of their money to build small stretches so congress refused to pass the Sells so congress refused to pass the Sells bill appropriating more federal aid money.

Commissioner Herlick takes the stand that if he withdraws the unsent federal aid from the counties, in which Allen-co's $298,000 has expended and builds state highways with it, that congress will reconsider its action on the Sells bill and pass it at the next session, thereby giving the counties more federal aid money for their own use.

Allen-co says if this is done, Allen-co will get back its $298,000 and more.

But Allen-co good roads boosters and representatives of the Harding Highway association want the $298,000 heavily appropriated and are willing to take chances of getting more from congress. In other words, they believe that "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush."

They wish to start the Harding Highway this spring.

NEED THE MONEY

The proposed Harding Highway from Lima to Kronton thru Marl-n can hardly be built without federal aid, since both Allen and Herlick are well relieved of federal aid by Herlick.

Moreover, the road boosters believe that in building the Harding Highway they are building a state highway which is in accord with the wishes of congress.

It is the belief of J. W. Davis with this plea that the meeting is to be held with Herlick and the Governor Wednesday, President Harding has endorsed the Harding Highway.

MEXICO TO HAVE MONTE CARLO

Two Million Dollar "Gambling Plant" Proposed

(By International News Service.)
MEXICO CITY—A delegation of citizens of the northern district of Lower California has protested to the government against the proposed establishment of a huge $2,000,000 Monte Carlo just across the American border at Monte Costa. According to information available here, the project is being promoted by the Johnson, with offices in the Mortgage Guaranty Building, Los Angeles, is the promoter of the project. If permitted, will make it the largest gambling resort on the American continent.
Plans for the founding of the town include the erection of hotels, docks, race track and casino. The promoters claim that Monte Costa will mean ruin for Tijuana; that the promoters of the company have secured a permit from the Federal government for the work, and, notwithstanding this latter fact, are shipping in all the necessary machinery for beginning operations, asserting that a corporation has been organized under the laws of Mexico. PERMIT NOT SECURED

In a letter said to have been received here by a friend of Mr. Johnson's secretary it is asserted that as soon as work has started an application will be made for a permit to run the business. Those opposing the Monte Carlo scheme declare the corporation's plan is to try to build before seeking a permit in order to force the government to grant it. They are unaware, it is said, of the fact that the department of hacienda must grant the permit first and that the United States government must also agree to the establishment of a customs house and immigration office at Monte Costa.
The newspaper Excelsior, commenting on the situation, says: "A native of Lower California wonders what are the interests behind this big enterprise and who told the promoters that the Mexican government would not expel them if they started work without a permit. The department of hacienda (interior) must investigate."
Lic. Joss I. Lugo, under-secretary of the department, said:
"The new Governor of the northern district of Lower California, Enigmio Ibarra, who will leave soon for his post, has been instructed by President Obregon that gambling must be prohibited in all the territory. Ibarra will issue the proper orders upon his arrival so that no such establishments are allowed provided they are to be devoted to gambling."

QUARANTINE LIFTED

COLUMBUS — Smallpox quarantine, which has prevented prisoners confined in the city prison workhouse from being released for the last two weeks, will be lifted Monday, according to Health Officer Dink.

A North Carolinian is the inventor of a small house so mounted on its foundation that an occupant, by pressing an electric button, can turn it to get more sunlight thru a large window in one side.

after eating, nausea, under weight and other ailments are frequently caused by feeble or slow digestion, or by habitual constipation. When such is the case, Peppen seldom fails to relieve.

Testimonials have been received from people who say that Peppen is the best medicine they have ever tried. All over the country they are praising it. As a matter of interest to the citizens here, the statements from people who live in other cities are published. Through in Louisville, Ky., have given endorsements telling how Peppen relieved them.

Among the latter is W. J. Knight, 123 N. Seventh street. He says:

"I had indigestion for several years. My appetite was poor and so I got into a weak, run-down condition." Mr. Knight is a carpenter and is employed by the Progress Store & Range Co. Continuing, he says:

"I could not eat greasy meats, cabbage, or any foods that are hard to digest. If I did I had sharp pains in my stomach. I was easily exhausted and was so nervous I could not sleep soundly at night."

"Sometimes I would roll and toss and moan for hours. Peppen, however, has helped me wonderfully. It relieved my indigestion. I can eat meats, cabbage, beans or any part of the so-called 'Indigestible' foods. I have never had a pain in my stomach since I began taking Peppen. I get sound sleep every night. My nerves are steady and I surely have a good appetite."

"I have gained in weight and am feeling better and stronger than I have for years. I heartily recommend Peppen."

Peppen is sold by all first-class drug stores everywhere. It is being specially introduced at Charles M. Hunter's Drug stores in Lima, Ohio.

Peppen is made from a number of different kinds of roots and barks well known for their tonic, appetizing and laxative properties. Dizzy spells, sick headaches, sleeplessness, nervousness, stuffy, bloated feelings never was such big opportunities for the working men as exist today. Production is low and everybody wants competent help. A first-class man can almost dictate his own terms.

Of course, there will always be hard times for those who are not physically fit. Many a Lima working man, who a few months ago was bordering on the verge of a breakdown, has molded himself into physical fitness with the aid of Peppen, and today holds a responsible position that brings him good wages.

"THE PLEASURE SEEKERS" GOES OVER BIG

Made a Decided Hit by Two Outstanding Characters in Cast of Play

Local Houses Have Pictures of Merit Orpheum Program Too is All to the Good

(By ESTHER WAGNER)

FEW women of the screen are as sincere and convincing as Miss Elaine Hammerstein and few of them have her personal charm. Her newest picture "The Pleasure Seekers" gives her a role that makes her doubly charming.

"The Pleasure Seekers" as a title is rather far-fetched. It is the only picture in it, a young fellow with an adoring but cranky old father and too much money, who goes on a wild oats. He is brought up sharply by the father's decision to drop him if he doesn't turn about before the boy starts out on a trip. The boy starts to think it over—he's tired of the Marshall woman anyhow. The Marshall woman is the picture representing the pleasure in the life.

On the trip he meets Mary, the daughter of the father. The father, the sweet, the wholesome. He meets Mary and brings her back. He is sure that for once in his life he has pleased the old man.

Wrong again! Dad, who has been his son's tastes, refuses even to meet the girl.

Well, watch Mary work! Miss Hammerstein is lovely as Mary, but Frank Currier as the father is even more delightful. These two make the picture worth while, for while the minor roles are well played and the scenery is beautiful, the plot without the interpretation of Miss Hammerstein and Mr. Currier would be weak and the picture, without a doubt, would shuffle along on listless feet. (If pictures have feet.)

"The Pleasure Seekers" is appearing at the Lyric theatre.

"The Life of the Party"

DID you know that Roscoe Arbuckle can work without a bawdy? He can. Take his work in "The Life of the Party" for instance. He makes of the picture a most enjoyable comedy without the aid of bawdy goods, the while displaying more historic ability than he has for some time. The only thing he throws is himself—out of a window, but even then he is relieved with care before he is dashed to earth. So there's really nothing messy about the picture at all, you see.

In this picture Fatty is a lawyer. He firmly believes that bunks is the thing, providing it can be properly put across. He must choose between attorney for the Milk Trust for a lot of filthy lucre or fighting the thing because of a beautiful girl, who is interested in the Better Babies movement. The girl wins; the Milk Trust gets busy pulling political strings and all sorts of things transpire with the jello-y Mr. Leary as the disturbed nucleus.

There are many funny situations in the picture, and if it has never been your privilege to see Arbuckle in rompers, now's your chance. He is invited to one of those parties where everybody "dresses up and acts like kids." They don't, of course, but they think they do. On his way home he is robbed of his overcoat, which provides lots of fun for the audience.

Miss Viora Daniels as the girl in the case is pleasing. Others in the cast do good work and the production is splendidly photographed and directed.

"The Life of the Party" is the feature at the Faurot today and for the remainder of the week.

"The Man Who Dared"

IT BEGINS to look as if William Russell could make almost any picture a picture worth seeing. He improves every time you see him and

Kathleen O'Connor on her Republican "horse."

With an elephant as an obliging bit of apparatus, Kathleen O'Connor is ready for any number of workouts in her movable outdoor gymnasium. She is shown here doing a stunt on a faithful Jumbo.

Kathleen, you will remember, is the pretty little Universal star who played so engagingly in "Vamping the Vamp," "The Midnight Man," "Gun Fighting Gentleman" and "The Lion Man." She is a slight little person with light brown hair and blue eyes and insists that after a tryout in her gymnasium you will prefer it to all others. We all agree, if Kathleen will be around when we try out on Mr. Elephant.

is to be classed with the more intelligent of screen players.

"The Man Who Dared" as a whole isn't a picture to set the world afire. It is, on the other hand, a usual offering with a moldy plot saved from being utterly commonplace by the work of the star.

The story concerns Big Jim, who is boss of the lumber gang; the girl Mamie Lee, who loves Big Jim but who marries the sheriff to save her father from disaster; the sheriff, a sneaky individual who plays a mean trick on Big Jim, unjustly sends him to jail for a crime he himself had committed, and marries the girl while Jim languishes in the village lockup.

Her father had to have a large sum of money immediately, to cover a mortgage or something. Jim robbed a mail train to get it and got away with it, while the sheriff neatly lifts a large amount from the gambling joint, fastening the blame on Jim, who is apprehended, mauled and sent up. The sheriff, to appease Mamie Lee, shows her a letter in which he states that he is the guilty man, not Jim, and promises to mail the letter to the authorities after they are safely across the border. But he never does and no one is the wiser. But wait! His wife accidentally finds the letter, makes a dash for the village and Jim and after a series of thrills, truth wins out and there's a happy ending.

You see? You've virtually beheld the same picture dozens of times. But it becomes interesting this time because of Mr. Russell, who gives to the heroic role an air of sincerity and reality. During the last few reels the director rings in some religion, spiritualism, etc., to break the monotony and some of the scenes are really pathetic. The supporting cast is tepid. The scenery and photography are pleasing.

"The Man Who Dared" is the Sigma feature offering today and Saturday.

at acts that are decidedly above the average run.

Of the six, the best act is presented by Frank Gould, who does a black-face skit that is splendid. He sings, talks and dances, with the accent on the "sing." "My Mammy" as rendered by Mr. Gould is remarkably well done and his "Avantou" is delivered very well indeed.

An excellent act.

The Royal Five are the headliners and there is only one thing against them—they don't sing enough. The quintet possess splendid voices and carry two burnt-cork comedians that aren't half bad.

Nelson and the Barrett Boys have a unique offering that comprises good comedy, tumbling, dancing and a general surprise. Well staged and enacted.

Frawley and West have the acrobatic act and do good work. Austin and Austin were a little raw at the matinee on Thursday, but it's a safe bet that their evening performances showed a marked change.

Louls and Lydia in a comedy dialogue, are average entertainers. They also sing and dance and pull some things that are clever.

Lima's Peerless Orchestra, with imitable Frank Clark, are to be the feature players at the three performances on Friday.

Faurot—"The Century Midnight Whirl"

According to popular report about as much happy, spirited and tuneful entertainment as could be crowded into one performance is contained in the "Century Midnight Whirl" which John Henry Mears will present at the Faurot next Wednesday night.

Among theatrical novelties the "Whirl" stands out conspicuously. It is new and different. As has been told, it is a New York roof show which is now on tour as a theatrical entertainment in usual theatre hours. The "Whirl" comes from the Century Roof, New York, where it was the most popular entertainment of the smart set for three years. It is bright, brilliant, witty, sparkling, tuneful and spectacular. Mr. Mears has assembled an exceptional cast for his offering. The company is headed by Richard Carle, Blanche King, Charles Wininger, Winona Winter, Jay Gould and several others of established popularity and there is the famous "Millionaires' Chorus." All who like to be merry should see the "Whirl."

NEED SEWERS AT BLUFFTON

County Health Commissioner Reports to State Board

Very poor sewage facilities at Bluffton have been brought to the attention of the State Board of Health by Dr. J. J. Sutter, county health commissioner. Bluffton, although it has a population of over two thousand, has no municipal sewers and the residents are compelled to dispose of all sewage as best they can, Dr. Sutter states.

The State Board will send an inspector to Bluffton to go over the situation and make a report to the state. This report will be transmitted to the city officials and they will be called upon to draw up plans and specifications for the needed work. These plans will then be placed before the engineers of the State Board of Health and when approved will be submitted to a vote of the people.

This question was brought to the attention of the voters 25 years ago and rejected. It is recalled. Two reasons were given for the failure at that time. First, very few people had modern conveniences and second, the bond issue provided, among other things, for a $40,000 sewage disposal plant. This last item was considered unnecessary and aided in the defeat of the measure, Dr. Sutter says.

At the present time sentiment is very much in favor of putting in a system of sewers. It is stated. There are some private sewers installed, one put in by 20 property owners and emptying into "Little Riley" creek. There are also a large number of drains emptying into the "Big Riley." What is desired is a city sewer to connect all drains.

FRENCH STAGE TO LIMIT ALIENS

Only Certain Percentage of Foreigners Can Appear

PARIS—Quite a sensation has been caused in France by an edict made public by the Federation of Theatres to prevent theatres from employing but a certain percentage of foreigners in their shows.

The Federation states that competition from foreign groups is much too strong. On the other hand, French theatres, and especially music halls, remark that the percentage of foreigners employed is far below that generally accepted. They also fear that if France were to attempt to prevent foreign artists from appearing on French stages foreign countries, and particularly America, England and Belgium, would likewise prohibit the appearance of French artists and thereby deal a severe blow to French theatrical interests. They point out also that many dancers and singers whose names terminate in "off" or "ska" are in reality often born in the heart of Paris and that likewise the comic who speaks with a strong American accent on the stage speaks the ugliest French slang when off the boards.

Oscar Dufrenoy, manager of a well-known music hall in Paris, says that regulations allow that 10 per cent of the musicians be foreigners and 8 per cent for the other artists. According to M. Dufrenoy these figures are rarely reached.

KING URGES USE OF TRACTOR

Italian Monarch Shows Great Interest in Farm Work

ROME—The King of Italy, following the traditions of his predecessors, takes a very keen interest in agriculture. He has repeatedly affirmed, when opening Parliament, that the economic salvation of the country could only be found in its agricultural resurrection. The neglect and decay of agriculture, chiefly owing to the civil wars, greatly contributed to the decline and fall of the Roman Empire. When the supplies from Sicily and Egypt "the granaries of Italy," were cut off, the latter found himself in "a parlous state."

King Victor Emmanuel owns a large private estate on the seaboard, about eighteen miles from Rome, Castel Porzianno, which he farms himself, with excellent results. Recently the royal family, including the Queen, Crown Prince and Princesses, went down to the farm in order to personally test the merits of a motor plow of Italian make, a Pavesi, R. 4, just bought by the king, who wishes to encourage home industries, especially in view of the ruinously high rate of exchange on the dollar.

KING PLOWS FURROW

His Majesty, who understands all about these machines, took command of the steam plow and plowed a very deep and straight furrow extending over the whole field. He then shook hands with the inventor, Engineer Pavesi, and gave him a commission for several more plows of the same type for his other estate of San Rossore, near Pisa. Hitherto all steam plows, used in Italy were of American make, and this is the first successful experiment with machines of Italian make.

American business men had better realize that the present rate of exchange, artificially upheld, will very likely turn to their disadvantage in the end, because they risk losing some of their best customers, such as the Italians, who will shift for themselves.

OHIO CORN PLEDGED

COLUMBUS—The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation announced today that counties are showing great enthusiasm in making up their corn donations for European relief. Montgomery-co has pledged 30,000 bushels, Franklin 15,000 and Miami 10,000. Clark-co is the first to report readiness for actual delivery, request for six cars having come in today, for immediate delivery at Springfield.

Unique Convention Held by Amateur Radio Men

NEW YORK — (By International News Service)—You can send most anything by wireless these days excepting parcel post packages. Sputtering sparks and buzzing dots and dashes have demonstrated this at the Hotel Pennsylvania the last few days of this week, where the second district Amateur Radio Convention and Exhibition has been in session.

It was the first gathering of its kind ever held, and the lectures and demonstrations attracted thousands of amateur radio operators. The tricks of the wireless wizards were all laid on the table, so to speak, and there were concerts by wireless, lectures by wireless and messages and conversations picked out of the air from far off foreign lands.

World's championship code contests for amateurs were held and prizes were awarded for the best homemade amateur apparatus. Among the speakers were J. Andrew White editor of Wireless Age;

H. P. Martin, president American Radio Relay League; Arthur Batten, chief radio inspector, second district, and Charles H. Stewart, Atlantic division manager of the American Radio Relay League.

ELECTRIC CHAIR NOT FEARED

Sing Sing Warden Gives Views on "Murder Epidemic"

"LIFE IS CHEAP GAMBLE"

Thinks Capital Punishment Will be Abolished

By THOMAS WRIGLEY, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

OSWING—One hundred and eighty have gone the way of "the chair" in Sing Sing Prison. Last year seventeen walked the march of death thru the "little green door." In the first two months of this year three more have paid the extreme penalty, and March was ushered in with another electrocution.

With the announcement of these figures, given in an interview to the International News Service recently, Warden Lewis E. Lawes stated that fear of electrocution no longer enters in the criminal mind.

"Electrocution as at present carried out does not keep down the number of murders," he said in discussing the recent crime wave which has swept the country and has been attended by many wanton killings. The list of murders has grown appalling all over the country, most of them have been committed, not for some great or fancied wrong but in connection with hold-ups and petty robberies, the taking of life literally for a song. Warden

Lawes stated that possibly this is due to an after the war condition. Certain it is that life is held cheaply now, and to many of criminal instincts life is no longer a precious commodity to deter them from capital crimes.

ODDS WITH MURDERER

"The odds are all with the murderer in this gamble," said Warden Lawes. "The percentage of those actually executed is so small compared to the number of murders committed that capital punishment falls as a deterrent."

"Here is another astounding fact," said Warden Lawes. "The majority of men who now occupy the death house have not been previously confined in prison." Life, indeed, has become a cheap gamble.

In fact, there now exists a spirit of bravado, such as never before has been manifest. A typical instance of this was shown not so long ago when five condemned men were put to death at Sing Sing in a space of little over an hour, passing one after the other into the death chamber.

NEW SPIRIT OF BRAVADO

"Give her the gas—turn on the juice," said one of the men as he was strapped into the chair.

At Sing Sing where all electrocutions for New York State are now carried out, the toll of lives in executing the extreme penalty is higher than in any other prison in the country because of the large State population. But in many of the thirty States which have capital punishment the stout oaken chair with its electrodes and straps has worked overtime in recent months. And in all of them electrocutions are carried out in practically the same manner.

NO "NEW-IMPROVEMENTS"

Science has made wonderful progress in recent years in prolonging life, now serums and antitoxins have been discovered and surgery has advanced to a marked degree, but the method of taking life remains the same.

"Electrocution was introduced in this State nearly thirty years ago," said Warden Lawes, "but the chair today is the same as it has always been. Except for the amount of current used and the length of the contact, there has been no change. In former years 1,500 volts were used. Today 2,000 volts are used and better results are obtained."

Asked as to whether he did not think that in time science will bring forth method of carrying out the mandate of capital punishment, Warden Lawes replied that he did not believe any change would be made. "If capital punishment is necessary," he said, "electrocution is both effective and humane as to method."

ALL THE SAME METHOD

"All prisons are using practically the same methods. From the time the contact is given until pronounced dead by the physician, the average is eight minutes. The first contact is for a period of one minute and fifteen seconds. The second is usually for five seconds. From the time the first contact is applied, the man is entirely unconscious. Care is taken to prevent burning and discomfort, else the execution could be accomplished more quickly."

"Let me say, however," said Warden Lawes, "that to those in charge of carrying out the mandate of capital punishment, it is indeed a most disagreeable duty. To those who must enforce the law it is a topic usually avoided.

"I believe that in time capital punishment will be abolished."

MARRIAGE CEREMONY PERFORMED IN ROAD

CADIZ, Ohio.—A marriage in the roadway took place near here. As a result, Mrs. Edna Shissler, of Deersville, became the bride of James B. Gallagher, a Tippecanoe rural free delivery carrier.

County Commissioner Sepler used his car to take the bridegroom to Deersville where they were joined by Mrs. Shissler. After getting Rev. Mr. Firth, of the Presbyterian church, they drove here and obtained the marriage license.

En route home the couple decided to commence their wedded life immediately.

The car stopped in front of the Harrison County Children's Home, the minister read the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher rode home.

SON OF CHILEAN INDIAN CHIEF SINGS LEADING ROLE IN OPERA

NEW YORK. (Special.)—The chin in between, the Indian Indian war and the smooth strains of operatic singing was bridged recently when Chief Caulpoican, a native Arakanian Indian of the Chiriqui Andes, made his debut with the Metropolitan Opera Company in the leading role of "The Polish Jew."

The stentorian voice of his Indian father and the musical appreciation of his French mother have been blended into an operatic harmony of rare richness. The Indian chief is said to be the first of his race ever to have reached this vocal development.

Chief Caulpoican's grandfather was the chief conductor of the singing orchestra of primitive Indian instruments in the foothills of the Chiriqui mountains. At that time, according to custom, his son, Caulpoican's father, was adopted by a French family of immigrants and was taught the ways and customs of the white man. When he grew up he fell in love with the daughter of the French family and they were married. The Indian solemnly promising to forsake the traditions of the tribe. After a son, Caulpoican, was born, however, the old chief died. The tribe mourned and would not be comforted until his only son, Caulpoican's father, promised to come and be their chief and leader. Finally reversing his promise to forsake the traditions of the tribe, the French wife, he consented. The mother, however, took the little son, Caulpoican, back to southern France, where his vocal ability was developed, and later he

Miss Rosine Monroe, in Indian costume, and Miss Adolphe Entrees.

By ELOISE.
To be ultra-smart this season you need not wear a Parisian suit of a Parisian inspired coat. In fact, all American suits are the very newest things. By all-American means suits inspired by American designers and made in America of American materials. A Chicago designer recently visited one of the Indian villages of the southwest to study costumes of the Indian girls. She was so taken with their creations that she brought several from which to work out new ideas for modern costumes, and one of her creations is shown here. It is a real all-American costume, inspired by the costume of the first real American girls, designed by an American and made of American material.

It is an Indian sports suit of fawn colored ducelyn, a three-piece suit made with a long coat and a skirt ten inches from the floor, as decreed by the Fashion Art league. The suit is trimmed in true Indian fashion with a plain pattern brightly beaded in Indian design.

THE PARADISE MYSTERY

By J. S. FLETCHER

"When I left Glasdale—at noon," said Bryce, "I'd no idea—and I don't think he had—that he was coming to see you. But I know what put the notion into his head. I gave him copies of those two reward bills. He no doubt thought he might make a hit—and so he came in to town."

"Well," asked Folliot, "I shouldn't wonder," remarked Bryce, reflectively, and almost as if speaking to himself, "I shouldn't at all wonder if Glasdale's the sort of man who can be bought. He, no doubt, has his price. But all that Glasdale knows is nothing—to what?"

Folliot had allowed his cigar to go out. He threw it away, took a fresh one from the box, and slowly struck a match and lighted it.

"What might you know now," he asked after another pause. "I've a bit of a faculty for finding things out," answered Bryce. "And I've developed it."

"I want to know all about Braden," said Bryce, "and why he was the only one way of doing all that sort of thing. You know. You've got to go back—a long way back—to the very beginnings. I went back to the time when Braden was married. Not as Braden, of course, but as who he really was—John Drake. That was at a place called Braden Medworth, near Barthorpe, in Lancashire."

"He passed there, watching Folliot," said Bryce, "and he showed no more than a passing interest, and Bryce went on. "Not much in that—for the really interesting part of the story is yet to come. But Braden had other associations with Barthorpe—a bit later. He got to know—got into close touch with a Barthorpe man, who, about the time of Braden's marriage, left Barthorpe and settled in London. Braden and this man began to have some secret dealings together. There was another man in with them, too—a man who was a sort of partner of the Barthorpe man's. Braden had a belief in these men, and he trusted them—unfortunately for himself he sometimes trusted the bank's money to them. Now what happened—he used to get them have money for short financial transactions—to be refunded within every brief space. But—he went to the fire too often, and got his fingers burned in the end. The two men did him—one of them in particular—and cleared out. He had to stand the racket."

"He stood it to the tune of ten years' penal servitude. And, naturally, when he'd finished his time, he wanted to find those two men—and began a long search for them. Like to know the names of the men, Mr. Folliot?"

"You might mention 'em—if you know 'em," answered Folliot. "The name of the particular one was Wraye—Falkner Wraye," replied Bryce promptly. "Of the other—the man of lesser importance—'Flood'."

The two men looked quietly at each other for a full moment's silence. And it was Bryce who first spoke with a ring of confidence in his tone which showed that he knew he had the whip hand.

"Shall I tell you something about Falkner Wraye?" he asked. "I will—it's deeply interesting. Mr. Falkner Wraye, after cheating and deceiving Braden, and leaving him to pay the penalty of his overtrustfulness, cleared out of England and carried his money-making talents to foreign parts. He succeeded in doing well—he would!—and eventually he came back and married a rich widow and settled himself down in an out-of-the-world English town to grow roses. You're Falkner Wraye, you know, Mr. Folliot?"

Bryce laughed as he made this direct accusation, and sitting forward in his chair, pointed first to Folliot's face and then to his left hand.

"Falkner Wraye," he said, "had an unfortunate gun accident in his youth which marked him for life. He lost the middle finger of his left hand, and he got a bad scar on his left jaw. There they are, those marks! Fortunately for you, Mr. Folliot, that the police don't know all that I know, for if they did, those marks would have done for you days ago!"

For a minute or two Folliot sat joggling his leg—a bad sign in him of rising temper if Bryce had but known it. While he remained silent he watched Bryce narrowly, and when he spoke, his voice was calm as ever.

"And what use do you intend to put your knowledge to, if you may ask?" he inquired, half sneeringly. "You said just now that you'd no doubt, and I'm inclining to think that you're one of those men that have their price. What is it?"

"We're not come to that," retorted Bryce. "You're a bit mistaken. If I have my price, it's not in the same commodity that Glasdale would want. But before we do any talking about that sort of thing, I want to add to my stock of knowledge. Look here! We'll be candid. I don't care a snap of my fingers that Braden, or Braden's dead, or that Colishaw's dead, nor if one had his neck broken and the other was poisoned. But—whose hand was that which the mason, Varner, saw that morning, when Braden was flung out of that doorway? Come, now—whose?"

"Not mine, my lad!" answered Folliot, confidently. "That's a fact!" Bryce hesitated, giving Folliot a searching look. And Folliot nodded solemnly. "Tell you, not mine!" he repeated. "I'd naught to do with it!"

"Then who had?" demanded Bryce. "Was it the other man—Flood? And if so, who is Flood?" Folliot got up from his chair and, silently about the quiet room for a cigar between his lips and hands under the tails of his old coat, walked while.

He was evidently thinking deeply, and Bryce made no attempt to disturb him. Some minutes went by before Folliot took the cigar from his lips and leaning against the chimney-piece looked fixedly at his visitor.

"Look here, my lad," he said, earnestly. "You're no doubt, as you say, a good hand at finding things out, and you've doubtless done a good bit of ferreting, and done it well enough in your opinion. But there's one thing you can't find out, and the police can't find out either, and that's the precise truth about Braden's death. I'd no hand in it—it couldn't be fastened on to me, anyhow."

Bryce looked up and interpreted the words. "Colishaw?" "Nor that, neither," answered Folliot, neatly. "Maybe I know something about both, but neither you nor the police nor anybody could fasten me to either matter! Granting all you say to be true, where's the positive truth?"

"What about circumstantial evidence," asked Bryce. (To Be Continued)

HER OWN CAREER

By PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

REMORSE

John Neale did not return to his office that day. After a long talk in the studio, he and Gwenda went out for dinner together and sat and discussed the situation at length, the while they both made feeble attempts to eat the food placed before them.

"It's not a bit of use pretending any longer," said Gwenda at last, pushing her plate away and choking with pent-up emotions. "I feel too sad about the whole thing to be able to sit and eat steak and mushrooms while my Fern is off—off—God knows where! It's at least twenty hours since she went, and so much can happen in that time. Too much can happen even in two hours."

"Now, now, little girl, be as brave as you can," answered John soothingly. "This sort of thing needs a clear mind to work with and unshaken nerves. You and I can puzzle things out, I'm thinking, if any two people can. Why, just remember the good, solid sort of training we have had, Gwenda. We're not going to give up the ship like two butterfly bodies. We simply couldn't do such a thing and you know it. Eat every bit of that steak, and let me order you some nice coffee. It will help to clear the cobwebs as nothing else can, my girl."

At his words Gwenda straightened up like the best of soldiers, and managed to finish her food, and drink an excellent cup of coffee.

"We women are silly creatures in a crisis, after all," she said, smiling bravely over at him thru her tears. "But the blood of my forefathers beats strong in me tonight, John Neale, and as you say, together, you and I certainly can do something to bring things to a happy ending."

"There spoke a true daughter of New England," said John proudly. "Knew you had the right stuff in you, Gwenda. As for myself, I'm beginning to feel positively hopeful about the whole thing. It's a fact. "If only I had come back to the studio as soon as I left the theater last night, this might not have happened at all," cried Gwenda, overcome with remorse, as she remembered that she had been wasting her time in riotous living, so to speak, at the very moment that tragedy was stalking into their midst. "That's what I reproach myself with, John, and that's what you didn't know before."

"What on earth do you mean, Gwenda? You were at home last night, weren't you? Where else could you have been, silly girl?"

"The last place on earth that I should have been, John," she confessed with a regretful note in her voice. "I went to Fedya Stepanoff's studio and stayed there until late, late, or rather early this morning. Oh, I must have been mad to have done it. I realize that now, but what good does that do? Fern must have run off while I was away, and she would not have done so if I had been with her, never!"

"You were at Fedya Stepanoff's studio?" said John slowly, his eyes expressing his regret. "At that man's studio, and alone? Oh, Gwenda." (To be continued.)

FIGHTS TO DEATH

Bandit Slain in Chicago—Wounds Several Policemen

CHICAGO— (By Associated Press)—Facing more than fifty policemen, a bandit with a pistol in each hand today was shot to death after he kept up a steady fight with them until his ammunition was exhausted. Several policemen were wounded and one, Detective Mix, is in a critical condition.

Mix saw the bandit loitering at a street corner early today and started to question him. The men opened fire and ran. Reinforcements came to Mix's rescue and the bandit finally was cornered.

A new silencer for firearms can be taken apart into about 30 pieces for cleaning.

Healthy Skin

DEPENDS ON KIDNEYS.

The skin and the intestines, which work together with the kidneys to throw out the poisons of the body, do a part of the work, but a clean body and a healthy one depends on the kidneys. If the kidneys are clogged with toxins (poisons) you suffer from stiffness in the knees in the morning on arising, your joints seem "rusty", you may have rheumatic pains, pain in the back, stiff neck, headaches, sometimes swollen feet, or neuralgic pains—all due to the uric acid or poisons in the blood. This is the time to go to the nearest drug store and simply obtain a 60c package of "An-uric", the discovery of Dr. Pierce of the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

To Reduce Dangerous Varicose Veins

Moore's Emerald Oil treatment is used by physicians and in hospitals and is guaranteed to accomplish results or money returned.

It reduces all kinds of enlarged glands, gotters and wens and is used exclusively in many large factories as an untainting fluid and to the injured antiseptic. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps International Laboratories, Rochester, N. Y.
